THE NORTHWEST LUCKEY'S REWARD.

AN INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTORSHIP.

Claimed for His Break to the Harrison Column

His Competitor Went Down With the Sherman Colors.

So It is a Question of the President's Gratitude or the Senator's Hold on the Patronage.

[Special Dispatch to the Enquirer.]

LIMA, O., May 15.—There is a very interesting fight going on in this district for the office of Internal Revenue Collector. Collector Johnson's term of office expires next spring, and to the Democrats and disinterested Republicans the contest for his position is very amusing. There are only two candidates for the office of Collector, they being Geo. P. Waldorf, of this city, and Captain J. B. Luckey, of Ottawa county. The former is a strong Sherman man and relies almost entirely upon

THE INFLUENCE MR. SHERMAN

May have with the President. Mr. Waldorf is bitterly opposed by the anti-Sherman element, which is very strong in this county, so much so that a long remonstrance to his appointment, signed by several hundred, has been forwarded to Washington.

Both Mr. Waldorf and Mr. Luckey were delegates to the Chicago convention, and both were there in the interest of John Sherman. Luckey, when he became convinced that the Ohio man's nomination was impossible, was among the first to break for Harrison, while Waldorf held out for Sherman till the last. It is on these grounds, principally, that Luckey's friends hope to secure him the Collectorship. Through Sherman's influence Waldorf is placing all the postoffices in this district, and is thereby greatly strengthening his cause. Luckey was a soldier during the late war, and

SERVED IN HARRISON'S REGIMENT.

He has the solid indorsement of his own county and about half of Waldorf's county, and the support of the soldier element. Waldorf has just returned from a trip to Washington, where he deposited his application, he having some time ago been recommended by Sherman for the office. Luckey's applications, together with the remonstrance to Waldorf's appointment, has been on file for several weeks. Joseph Morris, Waldorf's able lieutenant, has just completed a tour over the district in the interest of his candidate. He nearly succeeded in creating

A SPLIT IN LUCKEY'S COUNTY.

By some sly work, and a large number had been secured to vote for him, but Morris' trickery was found out, and now the people of Ottawa county have no use for him. The Waldorf crowd went so far even to promise all the democratic postmasters in Ottawa county that they could remain in office if they would work against Luckey. Waldorf was believed to have the best end of the fight until just recently, when the tide turned, and cool-headed Republicans say that it is a break now between the two, and Sherman's departure for the old country is looked upon by Luckey's friends to be

A GOOD OMEN.

In the mean time Waldorf's postmasters are being put into office every day, and the Luckeys swear that the fight is to be compromised by their men getting the collectorship and the Waldorf men the post offices. The failure of the Allen county man to get the prize will kill him politically. A settlement of the matter is looked for every day, and each sunrise brings increased interest in the disposition of the only office of any consequence that is to be given out in this part of Ohio.

That is a pitiful case which comes from Youngstown, O., of the horrible abuse of a 10-year-old girl by her parents, George Lynn and wife. The child was beaten until she lost consciousness and, after she came to, the fiendish mother forced cayenne pepper and mustard down her throat, almost strangling her, and all this because she bravely refused to carry whisky to the already brutalized and besotted couple. Scalding water was afterward thrown over her, and yet through all the torture the child stoutly refused to do what she considered wrong. If the cruel parents are an example of total depravity, the courage of little Annie Lynn shows that the spirit of the martyr is not entirely extinct in this busy, selfish and often unprincipled generation.—Ex.

Died of Measles Disease.

Many eminent men, among them Mr. Vanderbilt, Mr. Hendricks, Gen. McClellan and Josh Billings died of heart disease last year. Authorities state that one person in four has it, though few know it. The symptoms are shortness of breath, pain or tenderness in side, palpitation, choked or smothered feeling in chest, tendency to faint, swelling of feet, ankles, etc. If you have any of these symptoms do not fail to try Dr. Miles' New Cure for Heart. For sale at I. L. Linn's Drug Store.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13, 1889. Harrison's religious following will probably be greatly shocked to learn that the truly good and pure Benjamin has been indulging in a sinful Sunday excursion. But such is the fact. Moses being left Washington Saturday morning on board of the Government vessel Dispatch and the sailing masters order were to keep going high and dry until the return to Washington to-night. And to make matters worse he has let off with him such innocent as Secretary Windom, who has not yet entirely recovered from the effects of his own indulgence at the late New York celebration, Secretary Rusk, who by the way, needs salt air very much since he was "fresh" enough to think that wielding a scythe for five minutes in the presence of several newspaper correspondents was sufficient to popularize him with the agriculturists and working people of the country, and lastly but by no means least, Joe Hawley, who although born in the State of North Carolina, can and does constantly give the trickiest citizens of the State which he represents in the United States Senate—Connecticut—points in all manner of things. Mrs. Harrison was along, but so also were the two McKee children, who probably fully occupied her time leaving the four—mark the number—pious gentlemen to indulge in their favorite game to as great an extent as they might wish. What was done will probably never be known as neither of the four concerned are likely to tell any tales.

Chief Justice Fuller finding the residence in the suburbs which he now occupies under lease to be too far from the Capitol for him to walk to and from the Supreme Court room in the Capitol, has purchased one of the most desirable private houses in this city, located almost in its centre. The price paid was $100,000 cash.

Mr. Palmer the new Public printer took charge of the Government printing office this morning. Mr. Benedict, the retiring Public printer has not been a popular official no man can be, in that office, who properly looks out for the interests of the Government, but he has nevertheless been one of the very best Public Printers we have ever had. There has been less waste and more work turned out for the amount paid than was ever before known in the history of the office.

At last the colored man and brother has captured a Presidential appointment. The lucky man was Rev. J. M. Townsend, of Richmond, Indiana, and the office was Recorder of the General Land office, not a big office by any means, but just now the race is extremely thankful for anything it can get.

Corporal Tanner is getting to imagine himself the "biggest" man connected with the administration. Some of his personal friends have already begun to talk of him as a Presidential candidate. If less than two months at the head of the pension bureau has had this much effect, what may be expected of four years?

The $100,000,000 in the United States treasury has all got to be counted in order that Mr. Hyatt the retiring treasurer may take the receipt of the new treasurer, Mr. Huston, for the same. The count began to-day and is expected to last something like three months. Nearly four-fifths of the money consists of standard silver dollars.

The appointment of Ex-Governor Thompson of South Carolina as the Democratic and Mr. Theodore Roosevelt of New York, as the second Republican member of the Civil Service commission, makes the board complete for the first time in many months. One of the first things that the commissioner intends to do is to contest the recent decision of the Interior department that appointments in the Census bureau would be made without Civil-Service examinations.

Mr. Wannamaker is opposed to one cent postage. He seems to have already become a victim to the fever that Postmaster General always get soon after appointments and seldom ever get rid of it. That is the absurd desire to make the post office department self sustaining.

It's dollars to ginger cakes that some New Hampshire paper mill gets in its work early in the administration of the new public printer. My reason for thinking so is that little "Billy" Chandler helped Palmer fix up his bond and also went on himself. Now Chandler never does anything for nothing, and his long experience in manufacturing Government contracts in which he has been silently interested causes me to believe that in this case he will stick to the same line of tactics that have made him a rich man.

The next Congress will have sixteen contested election cases to determine, thirteen of them from the south. The papers in several of these cases are now at the Government printing office being put in type.

"It is a fact that many of the best proprietary medicines of the day," said the late Dr. J. G. Holland in Scribner's magazine, "are more successful than many physicians, and most of them were first discovered or used in actual medical practice. When, however, a shrewd person, knowing their virtue and foreseeing their popularity, secures and advertises them, in the opinion of the bigoted, all virtue went out of them." Failure of eyesight, feeble appetite, headache, extreme weakness, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, gradual failure of strength and drooping, swelling, these are symptoms of kidney disease. If you neglect the symptoms you will eventually have Bright's disease. Warner's Safe Cure is the only specific which has ever been discovered for this disease. The late Dr. Dio Lewis, over his own signature said: "If I found myself a victim of a serious kidney trouble, I would use Warner's Safe Cure."

The Prettiest young lady in Massillon was married a short time ago in a Cleveland hotel under rather hard circumstances. From her earliest girlhood she had never been allowed to attend social gatherings, or receive a male caller. Young men who had known her all her life and were equally well acquainted with her father were never permitted to visit at the house. Her father was obdurate in this. She attended Vassar college, but the same restrictions were placed on her when she returned. A young Canadian fell in love with her and demanded her hand of her father. The interview between the two astounded the lover, for the father spoke disparagingly of his daughter. But the young man was firm and was finally told that the wedding could take place, but not at home. With no friends to witness it, the ceremony was performed in Cleveland.

Newspaper Criticism.

It is a privilege every newspaper reserves to itself to criticize, adversely if needs be, for the public's benefit, anything in which the public is deeply interested.

It is the custom of H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of the renowned kidney and liver cure, better known as "Warner's Safe Cure," to flood the country, and especially the post-offices, with medical pamphlets. The writer has taken the liberty to examine one of these marvellous little books, and finds food for criticism, but before indulging in it, will give our readers some quotations therefrom, from the highest medical authorities, which we believe worthy of consideration. Under the head of "no distinctive symptoms apparent," we find:

First—More adults are carried off in this country by chronic kidney disease than by any other one malady except consumption.—Thompson.

Second—Deaths from such diseases are increasing at a rate of 150 per cent a decade.—Edwards.

Third—Bright's Disease has no symptoms of its own, and may long exist without the knowledge of the patient or practitioner, as no pain will be felt in the kidneys or their vicinity.—Roberts.

Fourth—In the fatal cases—and most cases have hereto been fatal—the symptoms of diseased kidneys will first appear in extremely different organs of the body as stated above.—Thompson.

Fifth—Only when the disease has reached its final and fatal stages may the symptoms of albumen and tube casts appear in the water, and will great pain reach the diseased organs.—Thompson.

Sixth—Bright's disease, which usually has three stages of development, is a universal disease in England and America.—Roberts and Edwards.

Thompson is authority for saying that more adults are carried off in this country by kidney disease than any other malady except consumption. Under Warner's "Safe Cure" a paragraph claiming to be a quotation from a publication issued by Brompton Hospital for consumptives, London, England, which states that 52 per cent. of the patients of that institution have unsuspected kidney disorder. Dr. Herman Brehmer, an eminent German authority also, says that consumption is always due to deficient nutrition of the lungs, because of bad blood.

Medical science can no longer dispute the fact that the kidneys are the principal blood purifying organs of the human system, and if they are diseased and thus fail to expel the uric acid poison of the waste matter of the blood, as the blood passes through these two great organs, the "Safe Cure" claim is correct, and the reasoning of its proprietor holds good.

There is no doubt but that in too many instances the medical fraternity doctor for symptoms, instead of striking at the root of the disease, and that under this form of treatment many patients die.

We cannot, however, see the necessity of continual flooding the country with these advertising medical books, when their story once well told is enough for the time being. People as a rule, now-a-days, go to their newspaper for information, and we believe such truths as we have instanced could be proclaimed therein more advantageously to the public and much more beneficially to the proprietors.

Grandma's Girlish Gowns.

Faded and yellowed by time are they.
Even love cannot say "nay."
Old and faded—once new and gray;
Bright and gay in a far-off day.
When Grandma was a girl, they say;
Grandma now so worn and gray!
Sweet with scents of the damask rose,
Blossoms, fashion comes and goes.
And their perfume—now passed—
When Grandma was a girl, they say;
Grandma now so worn and gray!
When Grandma was a girl, they say;
Grandma now so worn and gray!
On the daintiest of them all,
I see a tear that she let fall:
Grandpa kissed the rest away.
Far away in a far-off day
When Grandma was a girl, they say;
Grandma now so worn and gray!
But a trace to these musings vain;
In their cedar chest again,
All the dainty gowns I'll lay;
Memories of a far-off day.
When Grandma was a girl, they say;
Grandma now so worn and gray!

Solomon in All His Glory Was Not Attributed This Way.

He was a Kaffirbold,
She was a Zulu maid;
All his deep love he told
As o'er the sand they strayed.
Pleasant their lives must be—
Theirs was simplicity.
There was no guile,
Plain in their happiness,
Simple their style of dress,
Shown in no fashion book;
All he wore was a loak
Brimful of tenderness—
She wore a smiler.

Bury the croaker out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground, where bumble bees bumble, the woodpecker pecks, and the straddle bug straddles around. He is no good to the city of push, too unpracticable, stingy and dead, but he wants the whole earth, and part of the crust, and the stars that shine over head. Then tussle him off to the bumble bee's roost, and bury him deep in the ground, he's no use to us here, get him out of the way, and make room for man that is sound.—Ex.

It may be well enough to call the attention of our farmer readers to a fellow who is going over the country now trying to sell township rights to a new process in manufacturing butter. He claims to be the possessor of an ingredient which if put into the cream will make a yield of butter greater than the pure cream will. He asks $100 for a township, and will take the farmer's note if the cash is not conveniently on hand. This, we think, will bear investigation and our farmer friends should be slow to take hold of a thing they do not thoroughly understand.—Ex.

Grover Cleveland is at present probably the most popular man in the United States. Out of power he continues to be quite as interesting a personality as when he was the Chief Magistrate of the nation. He grows by contrast of his policy with the policy of his successor in so far as it has been developed.—Philadelphia Record.

How Prohibition Works in Kansas.

Here is some valuable testimony as to the working of ironclad, double-barreled and perfect prohibition in Kansas: The year 1881 was the last of the license system in that State, the prohibition law having gone into effect in 1882. Mr. N. F. Acres, U. S. collector of internal revenue, has recently made the following official statement of the tax stamps issued to Kansas liquor dealers under the law for the seven years indicated:

1881	1,681
1882	1,787
1883	2,150
1884	2,709
1885	2,773
1886	2,832
1887	2,997

These figures prove that prohibition does not prohibit in Kansas. Under its operation the sale of tax stamps to liquor dealers has increased until they reached nearly three thousand and yielded the government a revenue of $75,000 a year.—Exchange.

Everyone who wants bug juice in Kansas can get it. Three thousand saloons are in full blast vending "red eye" without paying the State a cent of tax. Under the high license system of, say $1,000 fee, half of them would be suppressed and the other half would contribute $150,000 a year in reparation of the mischief they do. But the sentimentalists say they must not be taxed.—Chicago Tribune.

This Explains Itself.

McCORMICK

Harvesting Machine Successful in Australia!
As it is Every Where!

Farmers read the following Cablegram:

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, March 1.—[Special Cablegram]—The prizes of the World's Exposition were awarded to-day, and the American machine—the McCormick Light Steel Harvester and Binder—won the grand gold medal in competition with all English, American and Canadian manufacturers. The McCormick alone was given special mention for simplicity and new devices. This American machine has won thirty-three first prizes at the various field trials during the Australian harvest now past, in no instance suffering defeat, and has spread consternation among the English manufacturers, who are struggling to enter the Australian market.

The Record of the McCormick in Australia, Season 1888: McCormick met Dyerling 31 times; beat Dyerling 31 times. McCormick met Wood 26 times; beat Wood 26 times. McCormick met Osborne 17 times; beat Osborne 17 times. McCormick met Buckeye 16 times; beat Buckeye 16 times. Beat the English machines—Horsley 26 times and Howard 19 times. Beat the Canadian machine, Massey, 22 times. The Champion Binder refused to go into trial.

We respectfully inform the farmers of Henry county that we have taken the agency of this machine fully convinced that it is the best harvesting machine in the world. Your crops cost you money and labor and your plain duty to yourself is to buy such machine as will save them the most economically and effectually. SAVE YOUR CROPS AND BUY THE McCORMICK BINDER.
